Jean Richmann represents clients in complex commercial litigation disputes in state and federal courts. She represents clients in a wide range of matters, including in defending against unfair competition, antitrust, racketeering, and contract breach claims. Jean also has assisted clients in matters involving government investigations.

Her experience spans all stages of litigation, including dispositive motions, class certification, fact and expert discovery, depositions, summary judgment, and appeals. She has substantial experience researching and drafting motions and briefs in state and federal courts. Jean also has extensive discovery and case-management experience.

Prior to joining Coblentz, Jean clerked for the Honorable Yvonne Gonzalez Rogers in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California. Jean previously worked as a senior associate with Alston & Bird LLP.

Jean maintains an active pro bono practice.

Jean earned her J.D. from Stanford Law School in 2018, where she was member editor of the Stanford Environmental Law Journal. She earned her B.A., summa cum laude, in Political Science from the University of Michigan in 2014, where she was elected Phi Beta Kappa.
