Laura Srebro focuses her practice on estate planning and trust administration. As part of her practice, she guides families and individuals through the complete estate planning process, advising on the best estate and gift tax, income tax, and property tax planning strategies. Laura prepares essential estate planning documents for clients, including revocable living trusts, wills, and powers of attorney in addition to more complex estate planning vehicles such as intentionally defective grantor trusts and generation-skipping trusts. Laura prides herself on providing personalized attention to the details that are important to her clients and their family. The best experience and outcome is her goal, and she strives to serve her clients and community with care and distinction.

Laura grew up in the Napa Valley and now advises clients in both Napa and San Francisco. Prior to joining Coblentz, she was an associate at Gaw Van Male in Napa where she developed experience in estate planning, the administration of complex estates, and elder law.

Laura received her J.D. from the University of Notre Dame Law School, where she served as the Executive Managing Editor of the Notre Dame Journal of Law, Ethics, and Public Policy and was a member of the Dean's List. Upon graduation, Laura received the ABA-Bloomberg BNA Award for Excellence in the Study of Health Law based on her research and writing in the areas of long-term care planning and end-of-life care issues.
